Charges Hurlled At Meeting

Charges that one School Committee member was putting another "on the spot" were hurled at the session Sept. 11.

Dr. Milton J. Meyers accused member Vincent P. Davey of putting Chairman Robert J. McIntyre "on the spot" by asking him to state his reasons for approving the appointment of a Junior High School principal when all of the board could not be present. McIntyre was at Great Lakes Naval Training station at the time of the appointment, and gave his verbal approval to the Committee's taking immediate action, via a telephone conversation with Supt. Edward I. Erickson.

Mr. Davey said he had many requests from residents, seeking to know why McIntyre gave this approval for action while he was away.

Mr. McIntyre replied that he believed it essential to have an appointment made at that time, and he would not return for some time, felt that the remainder of the

There are many changes apparent today as Phillips Academy, one of the nation's oldest and largest independent boarding schools, begins classes for its 185th year.

The school is bigger than ever, with 840 students; new dormitories and recitation buildings are in operation for the first time; and Headmaster John M. Kemper announced that the school would be functioning on a record budget of more than $3,000,000. When he came to his post 14 years ago, the total was just about half that.

There will be 777 boarding students this year, and 63 day boys, most of the latter from the immediate Andover-Lawrence area. Increases in both figures are part of a general plan to make the school contribute to a larger group of deserving students. Last year the enrollment began at 828. In 1953, it was 740.

Dean Webster impressively clobbered opponent George Marad in the Republican senatorial contest — 3,193 to 396. Webster was nominated in the district and will face incumbent James Rurak of Haverhill in November.

COMMISSIONERS OK ROAD PLANS HERE

The County Commissioners have voted to lay out Lovejoy rd. as proposed at a hearing last week.

This is the final step required before bids can be sought on the Chapter 90 project. Town Manager Thomas E. Duff hopes some work can be done this fall, including a sidewalk between Dascomb rd. and the new school.

Conflicts Can Be Problem

Town department heads had a fast look at the state's effort to legislate ethics — the lengthy and far-reaching conflict of interest law — Tuesday morning.

And most seemed in agreement that the legislature should revise the statute before its effective date May 1, 1963.

Town Counsel Fredric S. O'Brien discussed the law with the municipal employees, as he will with the Selectmen and other town boards.

He told the meeting that the penalties seem out of proportion — but indicated that, unless revision is accomplished, the law must be obeyed.

The basic concept is that a town employee should not accept a fee for any action in which the town is a party, or has a direct and substantial interest.

But defining "direct" and "substantial" are more difficult, according to counsel.

In one hypothetical case, he suggested that the town has a "direct" and "substantial" interest in zoning. Thus an employee, who is a surveyor on his own time, probably could not help someone locate a house lot so that it would conform to proper zoning.

Certainly, it was indicated, the employee could not submit a subdivision plan to the town, even though this was done in a private capacity.

Additionally, what a town employee's family does makes a substantial difference.

The family is defined as the spouse, parents of both, brothers and sisters of both, and their children.

According to the interpretation,

FinCom Is Studying Facts

The Selectmen are now waiting for word from two appointed committees concerning Urban Renewal.

At a joint meeting Monday night, Chairman Russell G. Doyle told the Planning Board and Finance Committee that a decision should be reached as soon as possible, followed by a meeting with the Selectmen. He urged each of the boards to act quickly in meeting with the Housing Authority, then make up their minds on the plan.

The Selectmen have indicated they wish to hear the advice of the two boards, before making up their own minds. Mr. Doyle reminded the groups that the Selectmen have agreed to make known their opinions, prior to the Nov. 19 town meeting.

At the Monday session, Planning Board chairman Harold King said his board is "still in a quandry" about Urban Renewal.

FinCom OK's Call For Bids

The Finance Committee has authorized Chief Henry L. Hilton to call for bids on a new ambulance.

Chairman Phillips B. Marsden Jr. told the Selectmen Monday night that the FinCom also wants to seriously consider charging for use of the vehicle, at least for calls of a service nature.

He noted that the ambulance many times is used to transport patients to the hospitals, on a non-emergency basis. He asked that the Selectmen study this problem, and consider establishing fees for this sort of service to the townspeople.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff was authorized by the Board to confer with Chief Hilton on the proposal.

Even as bids are being sought for a new ambulance, the town continues to have its problems

Advertising For Rt. 495 Bids

Commissioner Jack P. Ricciardi has announced the advertising of bids by the Massachusetts Department of Public Works for the construction of about 3.4 miles of an Andover - Lawrence segment on Interstate Route 495. The DPW estimated cost is $6,157,490.15.

Specifications, which include the erection of 12 bridges, call for a double-barrel expressway, with three 12-foot travel lanes and a 10-foot breakdown lane in each direction.

This project, scheduled for completion in 1970 calendar days, combines two which were previously advertised. The low bids at that time were rejected by the Department of Public Works.

the business activities of any member of the family could put an employee into a conflict of interest situation.

And according to definition, a town employee is any paid employee, any appointed member of a board or committee, whether paid or unpaid, and any elected official.

One category of employee is set apart from all others, however.

A special employee is one whose responsibility to the town is limited to a specific area. And in brief, the town manager can, in writing agree that the individual has no conflict of interest as far as that specific area is concerned. If this is done, the individual may serve within the prescribed, limited area.

Mr. O'Brien felt that the Selectmen may, at some future time, wish to designate certain persons as special employees, thus allowing them to serve on some committees or boards.

The extent to which the new statute can be enforced is presently difficult to state.

But throughout his remarks, Mr. O'Brien stressed examples which indicate that a conflict of interest can exist under many conditions that are far less obvious than those which might come to mind.

Even the section of the law allowing town employees to seek written interpretations from town counsel came under scrutiny.

One department head suggested that if an employee sought the opinion of town counsel, then subsequently was charged with a conflict under the law, the counsel would himself be involved in the conflict of interest.

Mr. O'Brien noted that he represents the town at all times, and is doing so under this statute. But he agreed that there was something to the suggestion that it's difficult to advise a person, then represent the town against the person.

However, he thought that most of the rulings he will be asked to make are those of an anticipatory nature - prior to the creation of the situation - so that the conflict is not likely to arise.

In another section of the law, he noted that if an employee does not rid himself of the conflict, and remains in violation beyond May 1, 1963, he can be prosecuted by the police or the district attorney. Further, the person may be prevented from doing business with the town for a year or longer.

The town, in a civil action, can negate any contract where a conflict is discovered.

CATERPILLARS PREPARE FOR COLD WINTER

It's going to be a cold, early winter.

But the weather will moderate somewhat during the middle of the season, only to turn much colder by winter's climax.

That's the prediction of one weather-wise - or might we say "caterpillar-wise" expert.

The caterpillars, however, are dark on both ends and light brown in the middle. If the front end of the caterpillar is very dark, practically black, that means an early and cold winter.

If the center strip of tan is very narrow, and the rear end is again wide, and dark, that means more cold at the end of the season.

Mrs. Robert Mitchell and Miss Linda Mitchell attended the wedding of Miss Betty Harding in Rowayton, Conn.

MANY CALLS ABOUT GARBAGE COLLECTION

Garbage collection proceeded along its complicated path this week with the town house continuing to receive many calls from residents.

Town officials have emphasized repeatedly that the contractor has just set up new routes, and is not thoroughly familiar with the town. They have asked that patience be shown by residents, until the routes are set firmly.

However, it is understood that a number of the callers are very disturbed, even angry, at what they believe to be over-long delays in picking up the material.

Davey Critical Of Meeting Policy

School Committee members had a brief debate over not meeting in the summer, when the Board met Sept. 11.

Member Vincent P. Davey, stating that some of the names appearing on a list of teachers and administrators hired during the summer were unknown to him, claimed that the Board should have met. He said hiring teachers is one of the prime responsibilities of the Board and should not be left over.

Early last summer, Supt. Edward Erickson was given authority by the Committee to engage teachers required during the summer. Mr. Davey gave special attention to the position of assistant principal at the High School, now held by Charles Q. Adams of Amesbury st. He said the comment was not intended to reflect on Mr. Adams ability, but to the point that such administrative positions should be first considered by the School Committee.

The debate briefly centered around the fact that the Committee had given its approval to the hiring of teachers during the summer. And there also was a difference of opinion over the relative importance of the administrative posts in the system.

Some thought that the Committee should only interview candidates for the higher administrative jobs — such as the curriculum coordinator — while Mr. Davey maintained that this should be the practice for all administrative positions.

You'll never be sorry you saved

No matter what happens

It's never a mistake to save money.

One of our savers recently wrote us: "I've tried to save a little money more or less, every year since I was 20. I've been through two wars, a few booms and several depressions. I've never been sorry I saved."

"I like the Lawrence Co-operative Bank for saving, because they have had a fine record of conservative management for 74 years, and they re-invest savings in safe first mortgages of the 'monthly-reduction' type, mostly on homes in this area."

Our dividends help make you glad you're saving instead of spending.

We are small enough to have time to give you warm, smiling INSTANT service whenever you come in to leave or withdraw savings or to get or pay on a home loan.

MANY CHANGES AT ACADEMY

will be the usual group of boys from foreign countries, who applied for and gained admission on a regulation basis.

Mr. Kemper announced that the new Thomas Evans Science Building would be ready for classes, with its unusual and diversified facilities; and that the fourth new dormitory, named for Headmaster Emeritus Claude M. Fuess, would also be ready for occupancy, with two masters in residence. Peter Q. McKee will be in charge.

Throughout the course of this school year, other new buildings and facilities will be opened and dedicated, as a result of the successful campaign for funds recently completed. These will include the Sylvia Pratt Kemper Chapel, the Brooks Hall Room in Cooley House, and the Arts and Communications Center.

Williams Hall, the rambling residence for ninth graders, will this year be supervised by David Pynchon, upon the end of John B. Hawes' tour of duty. It was also announced that the annual Andover Summer Session will be headed for the next three years by Harold H. Owen, who succeeds Robert Hulburd.

Two members of the faculty will go on Sabbatical leaves this year: Francis B. McCarthy of the English Department, who will travel in England; and Sherman S. Drake of the Mathematics Department, who will go to France first, and then enroll for study at The University of London.

Returning this year after Sabbaticals are Robert Sides, Dean of Admissions; William Buehner of the Latin Department; Donald Merriam of the Spanish Department; and Frederick A. Peterson of the English Department.

The faculty of the school, which now numbers more than 100 men, will this year have seven new regular members, two new part-time instructors, and three apprentices who will serve for one year. These are as follows:

Crayton W. Bedford, mathematics, received his A.B. from Amherst in 1956, and has studied at the University of California. For the past two years he has been at Phillips Exeter Academy.

Yves Colle, French department, received an M.A. from the University of Bordeaux in 1955. He has taught in Morocco, France, The Emerson School in Exeter, N. H., Bradford Junior College in Haverhill, and The Brooks School in North Andover.

Alfred J. Coulthard, Physical Education, will be assistant trainer. He is a registered physical therapist, and has his B.S. from the Calvin Coolidge College, 1956. Previously he was head trainer at Brandeis.

Wayne A. Frederick, History department, has his Ph.D. in history from the University of Wisconsin, and has taught at high schools in the West, and at Tulane University.

Joseph M. Randolph, French, received his A.B. from Yale in 1956, and M.A. from Harvard in 1958.

Charles W. Smith is the new assistant director of development. After receiving his A.B. from Yale in 1952, he taught for two years at the Taft School, and then eight at Belmont Hill.

Alanson P. Stevens III, in German and Russian, has his A.B. from Dartmouth, 1957, and M.A. from Yale, 1958. He taught German, Russian and Latin at the Bound Brook, N. J., High School, and served eight years with the Army.

This year's three teaching fellows will be Christopher Wadsworth in History, Harvard '62; John B. Reid in Science, Williams '62; and Peter W. Sipple in English, Yale '62.

Two men will be associated with the school on a part-time basis: Robert A. Lloyd, B.A. Harvard 1956 and B. Arch. Harvard School of Design 1959, who will work in the Addison Gallery; and Robert P. Eshoo, B.F.A., M.F.A., Syracuse University 1957, also in the Gallery.

How do they fit into the larger, deeper purposes of Christianity? How much can this kind of healing be relied upon? Exactly how does it differ from other kinds of treatment? What is its real significance in the world today?

The programs will be broadcast four successive Sundays, ending Oct. 14. They are produced by The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

FINCOM APPROVES BID CALL

this week with the emergency vehicle pressed into service as a substitute for the ambulance. The police station wagon, meant to be used only as a back-up vehicle in emergencies, has been used extensively since the 1956 ambulance was laid up with a ruined engine.

However, the station wagon also is used on regular police work, and is not always readily available when calls are received. In cases where a patient needs a stretcher, it has been necessary to summon the wagon from some other part of town; or in some cases, a cruiser has responded.

It has been estimated that a new engine for the ambulance will cost up to $1,500. On the basis of Chief Hilton's comments that the vehicle has needed constant attention and repair since 1956, the FinCom believed it unwise to put more money into it.

The fire department budget for 1962 contained funds to buy a new ambulance, but at that time the Finance Committee felt that repairs could be carried on for at least another year. At that Committee's request, the item was dropped from the budget last winter.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Basic Facts Forgotten

The Selectmen, Planning Board and Finance Committee discussed Urban Renewal Monday night, with members of the Housing Authority and Director Ernest N. Hall.

Frankly, we were shocked to find that some basic facts, which have been repeated many times, are still misunderstood by some members of those boards.

We can not help wondering, amid the wealth of detail and the more-or-less complicated financial explanations, whether some of the basic procedures of the renewal plan have been lost. If so, it is difficult to foresee sensible action by the voters Nov. 19.

If, as appeared to be the case, some town officials still do not have the basic facts in their minds, then is it too much to expect the townspeople to do more? Perhaps so.

Possibly the Housing Authority will have to provide some of these facts and procedures for the townspeople once again, thus going back to the fundamentals that have previously been covered. This is the only way that agency can be at all certain that the voters understand the basic issues — for obviously, a few of our town officials do not presently have a clear picture of the facts.

Revision Needed

Under provisions of the conflict of interest law passed by the Great and General Court this year, the town can be stripped of many officeholders and many unpaid board members.

For the law is so vast in its outreach that hardly a businessman will dare to serve on a town board; few lawyers with local clients, nor engineers with area affiliations, will dare to become involved.

The extent to which the town will be deprived of the valued services of professional and business men is only now being appreciated. And as the law becomes more clear, the need for revision is obvious.

Our legislators adopted a conflict of interest law at a time when they were forced by public opinion to vote in favor; to do otherwise would have placed the legislator on record as favoring sin — something no public official is willing to do.

But there was scant attention paid to the ramifications of the law, how far it would reach into the lives of the townspeople and the municipal employees.

In addition to declaring obvious conflicts to be punishable by fines and jail terms, the law extends outward and onward — affecting a town employee's family and outside business associates. In fact, legal counsel isn't sure where the end can be found — even remote conflicts by definition under the law may be punishable, where actual conflict does not even exist.

Town Counsel Fredric S. O'Brien has the job, under provisions of the statute, of interpreting the law as it applies to each specific case. Employees of the town — and this includes all board members, elected or appointed, salaried or unpaid — can seek his specific advice.

But he is hampered by a lack of precedent, of interpretation by the courts.

Hopefully, by the time May 1, 1963 rolls around, the legislature will have revised the law. That date is the effective date of the law — set far ahead of the date of passage.

We think every citizen should stress the need for revision with his representative and senator — otherwise the town will be hurting badly by next spring.

No Delay, Please

The Finance Committee has given tacit approval to the purchase of a new ambulance, by authorizing the fire chief to call for bids.

There should be not the slightest deviation from the decision to purchase a new vehicle immediately.

The town is without an ambulance now, because the 1956 model needs a new engine, if it is to be used. But it seems to us, as it does to the Selectmen and the Finance Committee, that putting up to $1,500 into the old ambulance is a waste of money.

Meanwhile, emergency cases are being handled by the police-owned station wagon. This car is equipped with a stretcher, but it is not normally pressed into use unless the fire department vehicle is busy, or there is a serious accident with many injured.

The police department uses the station wagon on police business — thus it is not centrally located when it is needed for emergencies. Not many days ago, a potentially serious accident occurred near the center of town, and the station wagon was out on the far end of Haggett's Pond rd. A cruiser had to respond, and luckily, the accident turned out to be less serious than feared. Had it been necessary to transport a patient with serious injury to the hospital, it would have first been necessary to wait however long it takes to get clear across town.

There is a real need for the new ambulance — we're happy to see that steps are being taken to get one. As soon as bids come in, the expenditure should be clearly and explicitly authorized, so that no further delay takes place.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — September, 1912

Miss Alice Bell has gone to Salem, where she will engage in settlement work at the famous House of Seven Gables.

A new teacher, Miss Grace Pennock, has been secured for the North School.

The work of manual training in the schools has been resumed under the direction of Mr. Lunt. John Carse of Chestnut st. is working in Burn's Tailor Shop.

The Rev. Harvey S. Lowd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lowd of Bartlet st., was ordained as a minister Thursday at the Congregational Church in East Walpole.

William B. Cheever of Chestnut st. is serving on the jury in the session of Superior Court being held in Lawrence.

25 Years Ago — September, 1937

David L. Nicoll and William J. Stewart were appointed to the police force by the Selectmen during a special meeting Tuesday afternoon. Three others on the civil service list have been named to the reserve list for future appointments. Nicoll was first on the list and Stewart was the fourth name among the five.

The Rev. and Mrs. Herman C. Johnson were tendered a reception Wednesday evening by their new parishioners at the Free Church.

Phillips Academy opened yesterday with the highest enrollment ever recorded, 716. Headmaster Claude E. Fuess also announced the appointment of Roscoe E. Dake as head of the Chemistry Department.

A drop of 58 in the attendance at public schools was recorded Monday. The severe rain probably had its effect on the number of school children. Final enrollment figures will not be available until the first of October.

10 Years Ago — September, 1952

Collins, Giles and Longworth were re-nominated by the Republicans of the Fifth Essex District at Tuesday's primary. A heavier vote than usual was recorded, partly due to the rent control issue.

In all, 3,317 voters went to the polls, a 44.7 percent record.

A membership goal of 1,000 has been set by the Boosters Club, which has started its annual campaign for members.

Additional school facilities will no doubt be needed in the town. Thus the School Committee has voted to ask town meeting to appoint a committee to study the problem, and make recommendations to the town.

By a vote of 1,923 to 1,146, Andover prefers to continue rent controls. The retain-control proponents won in each of the town's six precincts.

Advised Of Coming Exams

Senator Leverett Saltonstall this week notified all principals of high schools, private schools and parochial schools in Massachusetts of the designation examination for the service academies — West Point, Annapolis, the Merchant Marine Academy, Kings Point, N. Y., and the U. S. Air Force Academy, at Colorado Springs, Colorado — Saturday, Nov. 10.

Senator Saltonstall, who will have vacancies at all the academies, urged students in their junior or senior years to apply to their Senators, their Congressman and the Vice President of the United States for appointment. "Many students do not know that they can apply through all sources of appointment simultaneously, thus increasing their chance of being a principal or alternate nominee," said the Senator.

Principals were informed that application forms and sample examination questions would be furnished promptly to applicants, who must return their completed applications to the Senator by Oct. 20.

The designation examination is held by the U. S. Civil Service Commission for members of Congress who desire it as part of their selection procedure. Senator Saltonstall has used it throughout his tenure in the Senate. In selecting nominees, he considers prime factors to be: motivation and desire to serve one's country, leadership qualities, excellence of school record, and of course a good grade in the designation examination.

Trying To Get Access Permit

The town is still trying to help Ronald Reader get state and federal permission for an access into the property at Route 93 and Lowell st., which was rezoned for an insurance building.

Ever since town meeting, it is reported by Town Manager Thomas E. Duff, there has been one problem after another in receiving permission. Even though the land is properly zoned for the building, the access to it is restricted to residential by the state-federal agencies involved in the road building program.

At this point in the negotiations, representatives of the two agencies are willing to consider a plan for a single access road - and this is being prepared by the town. Mr. Duff told the Selectmen Monday that there is still some hope of working the problem out.

Mr. Reader had earlier obtained approval from the Appeals Board to use a piece of land off River rd. But for various reasons, the negotiations for this parcel could not be brought to a useful conclusion, it was reported.

Board should act.

Dr. Meyers, noting that members often disagree, charged that Mr. Davey's comments and questions were designed to put the chairman on the spot. And he noted that, as far as he was concerned, Mr. McIntyre has fairly and impartially conducted the meetings. "I like the way you've been acting as chairman," he told Mr. McIntyre.

Mr. Davey, denying the accusation, said he merely was trying to find out the answers.

He stated that two qualified persons were available - Principal William A. Hart and former principal Benjamin F. Dimlich. Dr. Meyers stressed the point that this was Mr. Davey's personal belief and not that of the Committee. He also noted that Mr. Davey's feelings, and Mr. McIntyre's reasons, are in the minutes of the early summer meeting, available for anyone to see.

Member John S. Sullivan noted that several appointments hinged on making that particular decision at that time, rather than waiting until much later in the summer.

Albert Comeau of Lovejoy rd. has resumed his studies at Tufts University.

During the past week the interim Pastor of the West Parish Church, Dr. Hugh Penney, was suddenly called to Montreal, Canada, by the death of a relative.

Harold McGrath, RDSA, U.S. Navy, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold McGrath of Pettingill rd. Harold is attached to the U.S.S. destroyer Hazelwood, stationed at Newport, R. I.

Mrs. Edith Wood of Brockton recently enjoyed a visit with Mrs. William Trow of Chandler cir. Ray Youmans of Lovejoy rd. has enrolled at New York State Veterinarian College at Ithaca, N.Y.

URBAN RENEWAL UNDER STUDY

The board has not discussed the cost figures, he told the meeting, and several other questions remain to be answered, he declared.

Chief among these was the possibility of some rehabilitation taking place in the present plan, rather than complete demolition and rebuilding.

Parking also takes precedence with the Planning Board, with Mrs. Virginia Hammond asking that a clear policy be worked out prior to any adoption of the plan.

She expressed the view that parking must be planned as an entity, whether it be privately owned or a municipal function. Otherwise, she feared that small parking areas for each building would give the whole project an undesirable appearance and a parking system that will not function well. Her argument centered on the design, rather than the amount of parking. The latter requirement is set forth on a ratio basis.

Mr. King also noted that, in his opinion, there is insufficient room on the west side of Main st. for a developer to create all the parking the plan requires. Thus, he said, some of this required space must be furnished on the opposite side of the street - and he wondered how a developer could be required to do this.

Mr. King, at one point, was almost literally shouted down by members of the Housing Authority. He had just made the statement that all buildings would be torn down, then the developers would be sought, when Housing Chairman David MacDonald Jr. and other Authority members interrupted.

Mr. McDonald stressed that no buildings will be torn down in the Renewal area, until a developer's plan for the area has been approved by the Housing Authority with the formal concurrence of the Planning Board and the Selectmen. He indicated that this portion of the procedure, within the plan, has not been changed in any way from the early days of the project, when it was explained to the various town boards.

Thus, it was pointed out, such matters as parking could be controlled by requiring a developer to provide the area according to town wishes, prior to approval of the plan.

Mr. King, who said he had thought that all structures on the Main st. would be torn down at once, suggested that the required approval of the three boards might help solve the parking problem. However, throughout the meeting, the subject continued to be presented as one requiring further discussion.

Urban Renewal director Ernest N. Hall commented that changing the parking areas to municipal ownership would require a complete re-drafting of the financial structure, and this, he said, would take a long time.

There also was a brief discussion of whether assessed values of new structures would reach the anticipated $3,000,000 if the town owned the parking. One view has it that the structures and the businesses housed therein receive the value of the parking, and thus can be assessed as if each building had its own. Another view has it that the assessed values would fall off somewhat, being decreased by virtue of that fact that the property owner can be taxed only for what he has.

An anticipated tax income of $90,000 was briefly discussed, and it was agreed that this is a projected figure that can not be other than a "guesstimate" at this time.

Throughout the meeting, Mr. Hall emphasized that, at this point, the Selectmen and Planning Board have been conferring on many of the problems for some time. And he suggested that the plan as now presented represents the work of all three boards.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff received a strong second from Finance Committee Chairman Phillips B. Marsden Jr., on the necessity for continuing the town's capital expenditure program.

Both men stressed the need to consider Urban Renewal costs as superimposed on the financial structure of the town, not forgetting that other expenditures are required beyond the normal maintenance and operation. The Finance Committee has not, it was indicated, made up its mind on the subject, but will seek to meet again with the Housing Authority for clarification of details.

CLOSE STREET EACH MORNING

The Selectmen, while endorsing Chief Nicoll's schedule of closing the street from 8:15 to 8:45, gave him permission to make whatever changes he feels are required by circumstances. Thus, it was noted, if it becomes necessary to close off the street at some other time, due to weather or other conditions, the chief may do so.

Dormitories Finished At Merrimack Col.

The final four wings of the Merrimack College dormitories have recently been approved by college officials. The approval completes the construction of the housing units which began two years ago when one wing and a core area of each dorm was erected. Built with the aid of a federal housing and Home Finance Agency loan, the dormitories are valued at over $2,300,000.

Both Austin Centre, the men's quarters, and Monican Centre, the women's quarters, are designed and built in like ways with the three wings meeting at the core. The cores house two lounges, a reception area, phones, and artistically designed fireplaces. The basements contain coin-operated washing and drying machines.

Two of the three wings in each dormitory have three room suites with accommodations for four students per suite. The rear wing of both structures is built along more conventional lines. These have rooms for two students and house fully equipped four room infirmaries. The basement recreation rooms have facilities for television lounges, health rooms, ping-pong, shuffleboard and assorted vending machines.

The completion of the dormitories will enable the college to accommodate 600 resident students. It also heralds the beginning of a new era for the rapidly expanding institution.

ELECTION FOUND 60% TURNOUT

In the Democratic primary, Arthur Flynn took 969 votes for sheriff, while John Lynch polled

468. Both easily outdistanced the other three candidates. Returns from the county were not available at presstime Wednesday morning.

Independents Voted

Many unenrolled voters took part. There were 3,648 registered Republicans prior to the primary, while 3,746 GOP votes were cast. Not all registered Republicans would have taken part in the election, however, indicating that many voters preferred to participate in that primary.

Prior to Tuesday, the town had 1,503 registered Democrats, while there were 1,950 Democratic ballots counted. Thus it was shown that substantial interest was aroused among independents, who selected that primary.

By precincts, the vote was:

Precinct one - 332 Democrats, 910 Republicans; precinct two - 349 and 438; precinct three - 457 Democrats, 633 Republicans; precinct four - 345 and 619; precinct five - 151 and 233; precinct six - 316 Democrats and 913 Republicans.

During the course of the day Tuesday, the town clerk's office received a number of requests from independents, who had voted and wished to take off the party designation immediately.

This can be done by filling out a card at the town clerk's office, or by sending a notarized statement to the town clerk.

A business meeting will follow and members will be made acquainted with all the functions of the West School Parent-Teacher Association.

The members who were present at the board meeting were as follows: Peter Olney, Mrs. Robert Haag, Mrs. Leonard Coppeta, Miss Isabelle Dobbie, Mrs. Lenley Kohli, Mrs. Thomas Hood, Michael Nicolosi, Mrs. Frank Stevenson and Mrs. Morton Green.
